2025-2026 All-Inclusive Expeditions

Alaska & British Columbia | Antarctica | British Isles | Europe | Galápagos | Greenland
Iceland | Northwest Passage & Arctic Canada | Norway | South & Central America | Svalbard

Welcome to HX!

I'm very excited to share with you the places we'll be exploring in the 2025-2026 season. In here, you'll discover favorite adventure travel destinations like Antarctica and the Galápagos Islands, as well as two incredible Northwest Passage voyages. What's more, for the first time, we're offering sailings starting and ending in Nuuk, bringing you closer to Greenland's jaw-dropping scenery.

But first, why the new name and the new look?

Well, we wanted to make it easier for you to distinguish between Hurtigruten Expeditions and our sister brand, Hurtigruten. Giving ourselves a new name makes this possible, and so, our world-leading expedition cruising company Hurtigruten Expeditions is becoming simply HX. It's a slightly different name, but our love of adventure in some of the most awe-inspiring destinations on our planet remains unchanged.

2026 will be an incredible year in our history as explorers — one in which we celebrate 130 years since our first expedition voyage. It's a moment where we remember the depth and longevity of our heritage, the quality of the experiences we offer, and the pioneering way we're treading the path to a more sustainable future. So, take a look at the incredible destinations we are offering and get dreaming!

Yours adventurously,

Change the Way You See the World

In 1896 we set out on a journey of exploration from our homeland in Norway. Driven by a passion to discover what lies beyond the horizon, we sailed in the wake of the pioneering seafarers redrawing the boundaries of our world.

Today, we're leaders in expedition cruising, taking you to those places that lure the curious traveler. Whether it's spotting polar bears in the pristine landscapes of the Arctic, watching marine iguanas bask on the Galápagos Islands, or getting up close to Antarctica's penguins in our stylish, purpose-built expedition ships, an HX expedition brings you closer to a world of wonder.

With onboard lectures and Science Centers, your Expedition Team will illuminate your mind with talks about history, culture, science, and art, ensuring you return home with a deep understanding and love of the places you explore.

Our mission is to be the world's most sustainable expedition travel company. With the best ESG ranking in 2023 of a cruise company by Morningstar Sustainalytics, we've led the industry by being the first to eliminate single-use plastics and heavy fuel oils, and our hybrid-powered cruise ships were a world first.

Join us as we continue our journey to change the way you see the world.

A World of Wonder Awaits

Since we started exploring in 1896, we've been pushing back the boundaries of expedition travel. Today we have routes spanning the globe, as well as many shorter itineraries in places few explorers will ever visit. From the ethereal beauty of the polar regions and the whispered silence of isolated volcanic isles, to the sun-kissed colors of the tropics and culture-packed cities pulsating with life, the most curious of adventurers will find their perfect expedition with HX.

The Perfect Choice for Curious Adventurers

We've been sailing the world expedition-style for a long time. For almost 130 years, we've honed the art of exploring by sea, and our lineage stretches back to a golden age of exploration. Today, as then, we invite you to join us.

Our purpose-built ships bring you closer to adventure, and our range of activities and excursions mean you'll dive deeper into your destination. You'll find yourself inspired, and your mind illuminated. And you'll come back home with an intimate knowledge of the region you've just explored. Here are some of the reasons people choose to join an HX voyage time and again.

Striking the Right Balance Among Adventure, Comfort, and Sustainability

Since we first set out in 1896, we've been refining our ships to suit the conditions in which we explore. They're large enough to carry a full suite of expedition equipment, including fleets of small boats and kayaks, while a dedicated tender deck means you'll be at sea level getting to and from shore landings. At the same time, they're also small enough to go off the beaten track and venture to where larger ships cannot reach. With sustainability in mind, we're continuously striving to achieve a lower ecological footprint while keeping plenty of room for restaurants, lecture areas, and quiet window seats. After all, we believe having room to breathe on your expedition cruise shouldn't be a luxury.

GUIDED ACTIVE ADVENTURES

High Standards in a Casual Atmosphere

With HX the luxury is relaxed, and the atmosphere is informal and authentic. For us, having high standards doesn't mean being stuffy. As we see it, your ship is your base camp at sea, a place where you should feel completely at home. There's no dress code, so if you want to enjoy fine dining wearing a comfy fleece and hiking shoes, rest assured you won't be alone. And just like at home, there's no bill waiting at the end of your meal* or after your nightcap† — it's all included. You'll find your Captain, crew and Expedition Team approachable and friendly — they're permanent staff members, so your ship is also their home — and they love nothing more than to chat with fellow travelers and swap stories. And in such warm and relaxed surroundings, it's easy to make new friends.

True Pioneers of Mindful Exploration

When it comes to sustainability, we've always been at the vanguard. We were the first to stop using heavy fuel oils and single-use plastic in our fleet, and we introduced the world's first hybrid-powered expedition ships. But that's far from the whole story. We try to buy our food as locally as possible; we trade with the communities where we sail; and we clean up marine plastics from remote beaches. What's more, we partner with global scientific institutions, giving their scientists free onboard space to do their research, while our charitable foundation supports community and conservation projects around the globe.

Sharing the Wonder of Discovery

Exploring with HX is far from a sightseeing tour. We don't just point out the landmarks, we hike up mountains with you and look down on the ship from the summit. We don't just admire the view, we jump in kayaks and become part of it. We seek out wildlife and then learn about the science of the entire ecosystem in talks and hands-on Citizen Science projects. And as we're welcomed into the sometimes-remote communities we visit, we feel like honored guests meeting old friends. Because the thrill of exploration and authentic connection is what drives us, we feel privileged to be able to share all of this with you. After all, awakening you to a world of wonder is what we're all about.

A True Expedition

Embrace the spirit of pure adventure as you explore the planet on an HX expedition cruise. We take you beyond the ordinary, to places where you'll encounter the extraordinary. Whether that's remote island communities, spectacular wildlife, or pristine natural beauty, you'll find yourself immersed in a world of wonder.

You'll travel to where nature is at its most raw, where wildlife roams free, and where the elements rule. Because this is no ordinary cruise, and our itineraries are not completely set in stone. Routes flex to respond to nature's challenges, and we grasp opportunities for spontaneous adventure and exploration as they arise.

Some days on our voyages are called exploration days. On these freestyling days, our captains and Expedition Team members use their expert local knowledge to seek out the best adventures and experiences. Maybe an extraordinary wildlife watching opportunity has arisen, or perhaps there are reports of spectacular icebergs to observe. Once we set sail, we are ready for anything.

Even sea days are an opportunity to delve deeper into the destination. Your Expedition Team will keep you enthralled with lectures and demos, and there could be opportunities to try your hand at making local crafts or learning about improving your photography techniques. Get engrossed in a Citizen Science project and help contribute to global research, and plan your upcoming hiking and kayaking excursions with expert insight.

So, don your life jacket, pull on your rubber boots, and jump into an expedition boat — adventure awaits!

Activities to Bring You Closer

From snorkeling through shape-shifting clouds of fish to camping on Antarctic snow, you'll get a deeper sense of connection to the places you explore with our range of included activities and optional excursions.

Closer to the Water

On an HX expedition cruise you'll experience some of the most spectacular coastlines on the planet. Get out on the water to explore up close on kayaking trips and small expedition boat cruising, or take exploration into your own hands by snorkeling or stand-up paddleboarding.

Boots on the Ground

On shore landings, we'll take you off the beaten track to remote sites where you can seek out hidden treasures on nature walks and hikes. When visiting remote settlements, you might be treated to cultural performances, and in historic cities, you can join guided tours.

Forming Special Bonds

Excursions bring you closer to the spirit and essence of a destination. In Greenland, for example, you could find yourself hiking up an Arctic mountain or attending a traditional kaffemik social gathering, while in Iceland you might discover the joys of soaking in a hot geothermal pool following a nature hike to a beautiful waterfall. Every destination offers something precious and unique.

Activities Included Every Day

Whatever the destination, every single day includes activities as part of your cruise. Other activities, such as kayaking and some guided hikes, may be at an additional cost and are bookable either in advance or when you're on board. But with a fantastic range of options on every sailing, you're guaranteed being able to indulge your sense of adventure and passion for discovery.

The Expedition Team – Your Companions in Adventure

Among your fellow explorers are the onboard Expedition Team. They're just as passionate about travel as you are, and they'll be your friendly expert guides on your journey of discovery.

Made up of skilled professionals and destination specialists, the Expedition Team love adventure and they have an intimate knowledge of the places we sail to. Whether they're guiding you through ancient ruins, across the Arctic tundra, or down cobbled alleys in historic cities, they'll make sure you get the best experience possible.

Some members of the team are scientists, and they'll engage you in lively talks covering subjects such as glaciology, ecology, geology, and climate science. You can help them collect samples for analysis in the Science Center, and join them as they launch underwater drones, pan for gold, lead wildlife watches out on deck, and much more.

The Expedition Team care deeply about the protection of the places to which we voyage. With a commitment to sustainability, they're trained to safeguard not only you but also the wildlife, fragile habitats, and welfare of the local communities we visit.

Friendly, enthusiastic, and natural storytellers, they love nothing more than sharing little-known facts and anecdotes. And if you catch them in the Explorer Lounge & Bar, they may even tell a funny story or two.

Driven by Curiosity, Science, and Discovery

With the most comprehensive science and learning program of any expedition travel company, when you join an expedition with HX you'll be a part of something much bigger. With our Science & Education Program on board, you'll find international scientists and state-of-the-art Science Centers – and you too can take part in our Citizen Science projects to aid important research and conservation.

Curiosity and learning are at the heart of everything we do. When we venture to some of the furthest corners of the planet, we're driven by a sense of wonder, with an urge to understand life's complex web. That's why we offer the most extensive science and learning opportunities you'll find anywhere. And it's also why we invite scientists on board to conduct their important research work and share their passion for science.

We also invite you to help with exciting scientific research while you're on board, and this is where our supported Citizen Science projects come in. Whether you're photographing humpback whales for a global digital conservation database, logging species to help botanists using the iNaturalist app, or sending data to NASA to aid in the GLOBE Observer project, there's bound to be something that'll turn your trip into a scientific adventure.

On every ship we have a Science Center, and it's here that the magic of onboard discovery happens. With high powered microscopes, large screens, lecture halls, and libraries, you'll listen to fascinating lectures, analyze collected samples, and watch mind-expanding demos. You can also watch footage captured by our underwater drones as they explored the depths under and around the ship.*

Scientists from leading global research institutions will be among the guests on board, and often they'll give engaging talks on specialist subjects that relate to your destination. These could be anything from the life cycles of dolphins to climate change, or the geological secrets behind electric batteries to how volcanoes form. You'll come back home from your expedition with a wealth of knowledge and a deeper understanding of the ecosystems you'll visit with HX and the science of nature.

Science facilities may vary by ship.*

HX Leads the Way in Onboard Science

When it comes to protecting nature through scientific understanding, we believe we're all in the same boat. On our expeditions we bring together international researchers, dedicated science professionals, and you – our valued Citizen Scientists. Meet Some of the HX Science Squad

On an HX voyage you'll see science going on wherever you look. From Expedition Team members and guest lecturers to Citizen Scientists and field researchers — these are the kinds of enthusiastic and friendly people you're likely to meet.

Verena Meraldi

HX Chief Scientist

Verena heads the HX Science & Education Program and brings together researchers from all over the world in partnerships and collaborations. Much of her work is hands-on in places like Antarctica, and she can often be found collecting samples for collaborators or giving talks unlocking the mysteries of nature. "Seeing people's faces light up when they discover something new is deeply satisfying. We explore things from different angles to really bring it alive. That's what people love — it's like we are awakening the child within."

Thomas Hale

Guest Lecturer

Thomas, a geologist from the US, is undertaking a PhD at the University of Delaware and was invited on board to aid his research. A passionate advocate of everything to do with rocks, his focus is on the green energy transition and mineral mining. "Traveling to the Arctic is expensive and difficult for a researcher," he says. "HX gets me to places where I can engage with individuals and communities. Seeing people in my lectures experience those 'a-ha!' moments when I explain how geology works is what I love. You could say my job rocks!"

Diana, HX Guest

Citizen Scientist

Self-confessed 'science nerd' Diana, from England, came on her first expedition cruise in 2023. Since retiring as a math teacher, she has been indulging her passion for learning. When on board she can often be found in the Science Center and enjoys helping out with collecting plankton samples and contributing to Citizen Science projects. "Having studied the Greenland Ice Cap and how its melting is affecting ocean currents, I was keen to see the effects close-up. To be honest, I was surprised there was so much science on board — I love it."

Going Further, Treading Lighter

In the most remote regions, we witness the fragility of our planet firsthand. Protecting it has never been more important.

When done right, travel can be a force for good. It can open minds, preserve vulnerable ecosystems, and strengthen local communities. But the industry has work to do to achieve this. At HX, we believe we have both a duty and an opportunity to make a positive difference and inspire others to do so too.

We apply our pioneering spirit to our approach to sustainability, and our ambitions are bold. We want to reuse and recycle 100% of our waste by 2030, and aim to be emissions-free by 2050. Overall, our mission is to be the most sustainable expedition travel company in the world.

Our sustainability principles are infused throughout our operations, and we all share the same passion for protecting our extraordinary planet and the wonders it holds.

We believe the explorers of tomorrow should have the same unique experiences as our guests of today, so we make our adventures purposeful and mindful. As you explore with us, we tread lightly, we empower local communities, we share our knowledge, and we inspire change.

Emissions

We're investing heavily in reducing our emissions by introducing hybrid-powered ships and investigating zero-emissions technology.

Nature

Using both science and advocacy, we strive to protect the oceans, landscapes, and delicate ecosystems to which we venture.

Community

We work with local communities, supporting them socially and adding value economically. This creates positive ripple effects even after we've left.

People

Whether it's our employees, guests, or the people we visit, we celebrate differences and aim to be the most inclusive travel company in the world.

Pioneering Change: What We've Achieved So Far

Our mission is to be the world's most sustainable expedition company, and our list of achievements already goes back a long way. These are some of pioneering moves we've made, and what we're doing to continue that legacy.

- We quit using heavy fuel oil back in 2009, and we still campaign for a worldwide ban.
- In 2018, we were the first to introduce a fleet-wide ban on non-essential single-use plastic.
- We launched the world's first hybrid-powered cruise ships.
- We're investigating zero-emissions ships and pushing environmentally friendly onboard technology.
- We established the HX Foundation in late 2015 to fund projects that create a positive impact on oceans, wildlife, and local communities.
- In 2023, we introduced a 'Rapid Response Fund,' allowing our onboard teams to allocate funds directly to projects when they encounter a community in need.
- We support communities by working with small-scale local suppliers wherever possible.
- We're reducing our food waste and increasing our spending with local food and beverage suppliers.
- We offer full menus of healthy and delicious plant-based dishes on board.
- We advocate for stricter visitor regulations in the fragile destinations we explore, and we're board members of AECO and IAATO, which work to protect the polar regions.
- We inspire our guests to be environmental ambassadors and to contribute to global research by participating in Citizen Science projects.
- We collaborate with various international scientific institutes and share vital data.
- We engage in voluntary beach clean-ups in many of the areas where we sail.
- We are fully transparent with our sustainability data and publish an annual ESG report.

ESG stands for Environmental, Social, and Governance, and in 2023 Hurtigruten Group, which includes HX, was given the best ESG ranking of any cruise company by sustainability monitor Morningstar Sustainalytics.

Travel Done Right

When we talk about 'sustainability' what do we mean? At HX, we believe that when it's done right, travel can be a force for good. By keeping our environmental impact small, supporting local communities and ecosystems, and taking direct actions such as cleaning beaches of marine plastics, we have a positive impact wherever we sail.

Giving Back to the Places We Explore

At HX we believe exploring the world opens our minds and inspires us in so many ways. But we also think the privilege of exploring comes with responsibility. Expedition cruising — done right — can have a positive impact on the places we visit, whether that's helping restore a marine ecosystem, protecting endangered animals, or lending support to a local community. In 2015, HX Foundation was set up to enable us to make that possible. Funded by our onboard Green Stay option, as well as charity auctions and donations from guests, HX Foundation supports projects and initiatives around the world that really make a difference.

Since HX Foundation was launched, we've donated more than 1 million euros and supported more than 150 projects in 23 different countries. We don't just donate and move on — we're actively engaged in every project, and we measure their impact. Each one aligns with our stated missions to help preserve endangered wildlife, battle marine litter, and support local communities wherever we sail. On the facing page are just three of the projects HX Foundation contributes to — if you'd like to learn more and see a full list of the projects we support, visit our website.

Whale Conservation Research in Antarctica

We're delighted to have teamed up with world-renowned conservationist Dr. Ari Friedlaender of the University of California, providing financial backing for his research into the effects of climate change in Antarctica on humpback whales. But that's not all – we'll be hosting Dr. Friedlaender on many of our Antarctic sailings to provide him with field work opportunities, giving you a front row view of how conservation research at sea works. What's more, you too can contribute to important cetacean research on board by joining the HappyWhale Citizen Science project.

Helping the Children of Greenland

The world's largest island is a place of deep silence and pristine landscapes, with human settlements limited to its icy margins. In communities dotted along Greenland's west coast, volunteers from the Association of Greenlandic Children run the inspirational project Ikioqatigiinneq, which means 'helping each other'. The positive impact their activities have on children in local communities throughout Greenland and the support the association provides them with is why we're proud to have been their partners since HX Foundation was established.

Showing Some Love for Svalbard's Shores

Remote, wild, beautiful ... there are so many reasons explorers love to visit Svalbard. To help keep it that way we are a backer of Aktiv i Friluft, which has removed over 10 tons of marine and plastic waste from the beaches and coasts of this Arctic archipelago. On one recent clean-up, the lives of three reindeer were saved as their antlers had become entangled with ghost fishing nets. If you join one of our Svalbard expeditions, you may also help with our beach cleans!

Alaska & British Columbia

For those with a big appetite for adventure.

Two Big Destinations — One Massive Adventure

The word ‘epic’ barely does justice to the immensity of Alaska and British Columbia. These two destinations may be parts of different countries, but nature has no borders and together they comprise a seamless ecosystem that is wild, remote, and — yes — epic.

To be exposed to The Great Land, as Alaska is sometimes called, is to witness the world on a macro scale. It’s a world where many people still live in harmony with its rhythms, honor its wisdom, and celebrate their living heritage. Its sheer scale will take your breath away. Here, unparalleled tranquility is juxtaposed with towering grandeur. Wide glaciers push out icebergs into the Pacific Ocean against a backdrop of lush pine forests, cascading waterfalls, and regal snowcapped mountains. And the national parks — well, some are larger than entire nations.

Canada’s British Columbia — often shortened to BC — is just as grand, but in a subtly different way. The Inside Passage is the perfect destination for exploration. Studded with islands, this network of channels runs the entire length of Canada’s Pacific coastline, and our expedition ships are the perfect size for exploring some of the more hard-to-reach and seldom visited parts.

The wildlife in Alaska and BC is scaled up compared to most places. Bears as big as horses fish for salmon in fast-flowing rivers, moose with antlers wider than small cars stalk the dark forests, sleek orcas grace the icy, blue waters, as do leviathan-like fin and humpback whales. From your expedition ship, and while walking on land, you might spot otters, Sitka black-tailed deer, and even wolves, all the while keeping a lookout for the iconic Bald Eagle.

In Alaska you’ll discover a fascinating and extraordinary history. See Gold Rush era villages, domed churches built by Russian settlers, imposing totem poles hand-carved by Native Alaskans, and witness the continuing creativity of those working to preserve this heritage. All this and more are brought to life during talks and workshops with our onboard specialists on the Expedition Team. Alaska and BC — two big destinations rolled into one massive adventure.

PETROGLYPHS IN WRANGELL

Rich Cultures

The native peoples of Alaska treasure their long history and ancient culture. Communities share a great deal of common heritage while retaining many unique traditions and 20 distinct languages. Guided by your Expedition Team — and always with the utmost respect — you'll have the opportunity to meet residents from communities like the Aleut, Haida, and Tlingit, and learn about their culture and spiritual traditions, as well as crafts like woodcarving, needlework, and jewelry-making.

Living Waters

From the deck of your expedition ship, you'll be perfectly placed to observe some of the planet's most majestic marine mammals. Observing from on board or paddling the crystal-clear waters by kayak, you'll be watching out for several species of whales as well as dolphins, porpoises, and even pods of orcas. These pristine coastal habitats are also home to over 500 species of bird, including huge albatrosses and comical puffins, as well as rarer finds such as the Kittlitz's Murrelet and the state bird of Alaska, the Willow Ptarmigan.

Iconic Wildlife on Land

Whenever conditions allow and it's safe to do so, we'll make our way to the shore to see some of the region's most iconic inhabitants. Bears — whether brown or black — are numerous in Alaska. So-called grizzly bears are simply brown bears that range in the interior and are often smaller than their coastal cousins. The Alaskan moose, standing around seven feet tall at the shoulder, is known as the 'giant moose' for good reason. At night, if we're close enough, hear the wolves howl in the forests.

Our Alaska and British Columbia Expeditions

Our expedition cruises reveal the wild nature and vibrant cultures of Alaska and Canada's British Columbia. You'll encounter isolated islands where wildlife roams free, towns with extraordinary history, and Indigenous communities in which unique traditions live on.

KAYAKING EXCURSION IN ICY BAY

Antarctica

Discover a pristine icy realm with the global leader in expeditions to Antarctica.

Remote Beauty Beyond the Horizon

"Mythic," "otherworldly," and "like a fairy tale" — that's how great explorers like Roald Amundsen described this vast and beautiful continent of ice, water, and rock. It's an undisturbed land where the elements rule — and it's like nowhere else on Earth. Only one in a thousand people have ever set foot here, and to do so is to become one of the few intrepid travelers fortunate enough to witness its ethereal splendor and tranquility.

As the global leader of expeditions to Antarctica, more of these adventurous explorers have traveled with HX than any other operator. When on an expedition cruise with us, your experienced Expedition Team will ensure you'll be completely immersed in the wonders of this icy realm, whether it's on shore landings, kayaking, or expedition boat cruising amidst towering icebergs, or snowshoeing across the frozen tundra. They'll guide you and enhance everything you see and experience, sharing their insights into subjects like Antarctica's geology, climate, history, and wildlife, and helping you delve deeper into the science of the seventh continent.

The ecology of the region is as fragile as it is precious, and at HX we work hard to keep it that way. We ensure nothing gets left behind other than sterilized boot prints, and the only things we take away are some awesome photographs and precious memories. Our expedition ships are purpose-built for polar exploration. They're small enough to venture where other ships can't, but large enough to offer a comfortable and adventurous experience. Some of our vessels feature state-of-the-art hybrid technology, helping us to achieve the lowest possible carbon footprint of all Antarctic expedition cruises.

Soul-Stirring Scenery

With endless ranges of snow-coated mountains, and monumental icebergs sculpted by the sun, wind, and waves, the splendor of Antarctica will stay with you forever. Experience the tranquility of its vast landscapes, the purity of its air and water and the way the enticing light plays off the myriad shades of blue ice, sea, and sky.

Penguin Paradise

The krill-rich waters of the Southern Ocean make it a haven for the wildlife, including whales, seals, seabirds, and of course, penguins. These adorable creatures are the continent's signature animal, and the Antarctic Peninsula is home to an estimated population of 12 million individuals across several species. Depending on when during the Antarctic summer you visit, you may see their courting rituals, newly hatched chicks, or the moulting period.

Evolution of an Expedition

As the planet's most remote continent, Antarctica has had few visitors, and its human history is relatively short. And just like the explorers who came before you, your destinations and experiences may be determined by the weather and sea conditions. Sometimes plans might change, new opportunities will emerge, and experiences will present themselves in surprising ways. This is the true nature of expedition cruising — and it's the most exciting and rewarding adventure you can have.

Our Antarctica Expeditions

Venture to the wild and wonderful frozen continent with the global leader — more people trust us to take them to Antarctica than any other operator. Our range of itineraries showcases the highlights and wildlife of Antarctica and beyond.

British Isles

Rugged and wild, experience the romance and timeless beauty of these historic isles.

Wild Isles Drenched in History

A rich tapestry of distinct cultures, customs, and even languages, the British Isles are shared by several nations. England, Wales, Scotland, the Republic of Ireland, and Northern Ireland, along with hundreds of smaller islands, come together to form an eclectic geographical region where history is unearthed at every turn.

A mix of complex geology coupled with glacial action during the ice ages has created a rugged coastline where an array of life flourishes. An expedition cruise here gives you the chance to go off the beaten track and get up close to nature and see some of the greatest seabird breeding colonies in Europe. Seals, otters, and birds of prey call these isles home, along with an array of other photogenic wildlife such as whales and dolphins.

These wild Atlantic islands are also steeped in history. With roots reaching back into the mists of time, you'll discover craggy castles, historic abbeys, ancient ruins, and enigmatic standing stones set against backdrops of heather-cloaked hills and dark mountains.

Our British Isles adventures concentrate on the islands around Scotland, including the gorgeous Hebrides. You'll witness stunning, windswept landscapes as you set foot on Islay, Mull, the Treshnish Isles, and Colonsay. Or discover the splendor of the Highlands, including Fort William, a town set in the shadow of the mighty Ben Nevis. You can also visit some of the Scottish isles as part of an expedition cruise to Iceland. Wherever you go, you'll get a chance to sample Scotland's 'liquid gold,' with each flavor of whisky imbued with the essence of the place in which it has been made for centuries.

Our smaller ships allow for true exploration, and are able to drop anchor next to little-visited natural harbors and pristine beaches. Once you discover Scotland's wild natural beauty, the memories will be with you forever.

Timeless Beauty

In the remote isles of the Hebrides you'll discover rugged landscapes draped in heather, as well as white sandy beaches and towering cliffs. Picturesque towns and stone monuments dot landscapes, while on the mainland you'll be immersed in awesome Highland scenery, with characteristic mountains and glacier-carved valleys.

A Wildlife Haven

The seas and coasts around the Scottish isles are abundant with wildlife, featuring everything from whales and basking sharks to dolphins and seals. These islands are also home to immense colonies of seabirds, including puffins, razorbills, kittiwakes, and gannets. RED DEER, ISLE OF ARRAN

Galápagos

Voyage back in time and witness evolution in action.

Adventures in the Crucible of Evolution

An expedition cruise in the Galápagos Islands will change the way you view the natural world forever. You'll discover firsthand just why Darwin was inspired to develop his theory of evolution by natural selection here. In fact, this vast archipelago of volcanic isles plays host to a world beyond imagining, and with its famously tame wildlife it's a delight for any nature lover.

Left to evolve in the midst of the Pacific Ocean for millions of years, some of the world's most enigmatic wildlife now thrives here. Besides the iconic Galapagos giant tortoise are the other members of what's known as the 'Big 15.' These include the playful Galapagos sea lion, the Galapagos Penguin, Boobies both Blue- and Red-footed, and the unique marine iguana – the only lizard species at home in the sea.

A culmination of 70 years of experience in the region, our expeditions to the Galápagos allow you to experience the best of the islands and witness a diverse range of habitats and climatic conditions. You'll explore the best of the islands and witness a diverse range of habitats and climatic conditions. Discover towering cacti and scaly iguanas in rocky, arid landscapes one day, and revel in lush foliage and white sandy beaches the next. At conservation projects, including a hatchery for baby tortoises, you'll see the efforts being made to conserve these unique isles.

Your Expedition Team is comprised of local Galápagos experts. They'll be your guides as you explore the archipelago, leading you on shore landings and nature walks, and sharing their knowledge of the key places to observe and interact respectfully with the wildlife.

Take to the Waters

Crystal clear waters surround the islands, and your expedition ship has everything you'll need to enjoy kayaking and paddleboarding. Small-boat cruising is the ideal way to explore, and from our glass-bottomed vessel you can observe marine life from above. Don a mask and snorkel, and dive in to find yourself immersed in an aquatic world of brightly colored fish, placid turtles, and diving marine iguanas – and perhaps see curious sea lions turning graceful underwater somersaults.

In the Footsteps of Darwin

At the Charles Darwin Research Station, more than a hundred scientists, educators, and volunteers from all over the world work tirelessly to conserve Galápagos wildlife. You'll see baby tortoises being reared in incubation pens, extensive natural history collections, and local photography exhibits. In the San Cristóbal highlands, La Galapaguera is a forest reserve that's also a breeding center for giant tortoises, and it's easy to see these gentle giants in their natural habitat here.

A Deeper Understanding

The Galápagos Islands are the global epicenter for studying of evolutionary biology, and scientists have amassed a huge body of research and insight. On your voyage, in-depth lectures are offered by the carefully selected local specialists who make up the Expedition Team, who have years of experience and knowledge about the history, wildlife, and conservation of the islands. The subject of each lecture is chosen to complement each stage of your expedition.

Our Galápagos Expeditions

With our range of Galápagos expedition cruises, you can visit different combinations of the main islands depending on your available time. With such a diversity between them, this is a great way to see the varied wildlife – plus, our land and sea adventures include a trip to Peru's iconic Machu Picchu.

Greenland

Awe-inspiring grandeur of the world's largest island.

No Soul Left Unstirred

From cool, glassy fjords and looming glaciers to colorful settlements and an unmatched spirit of hospitality, Greenland may just be one of the most surprising destinations you'll ever visit. It's a perfect place for expeditions — one where you might see humpback whales breaching icy blue waters and Arctic foxes roaming along lonely beaches. You'll find yourself welcomed into its communities and spellbound by its truly epic vistas, and you'll also find yourself changed in unexpected ways by the sheer beauty of the world's largest island.

With HX as your guide, exploring Greenland is a revelation. Your Expedition Team not only knows the country but loves it, taking pride and pleasure in sharing its alluring charms with you. They'll show you the beauty of the Ilulissat Icefjord, a UNESCO World Heritage Site of towering icebergs sparkling under the summer sun. They'll walk you through settlements of brightly colored homes and take you on hikes to lakes, mountains, and fjords. And they'll lead you to all the best spots for seeing wildlife, whether that's in a kayak, on foot, or even from our ship.

Greenland is an enigmatic country defined by its rugged beauty and Arctic culture. Whether you choose to explore its remote east coast, home to the largest fjord system and national park in the world, or the equally beautiful west coast with its colorful settlements and perhaps even across to Arctic Canada, we'll show you a place that'll truly stir your soul.

A FRIENDLY WELCOME

Close Knit Communities

The people of Greenland share a love of their country and maintain pride in its traditions. Even with its modern capital, ancient culture and customs can still be found. To get to know them better, you may be invited to a kaffemik – a casual social gathering at someone's home, where you'll enjoy strong, hot coffee and delicious food. You may even get to see some people wear their beautiful national dress and hear them sing traditional songs.

Coastal Wildlife

Around four-fifths of Greenland is covered in ice, and this vast, interconnected ecosystem is most varied in the ice-free periphery of the island. Here, you'll have a chance to spot everything from musk oxen and Arctic foxes to White-tailed Eagles and Snowy Owls. Humpback, blue, and fin whales can be seen along the coastline or feeding in fjords, while polar bears are occasionally spotted in Northeast Greenland National Park.

Timelessness Meets Modernity

Nestled on the west coast, Nuuk is the capital of Greenland. This compact city is walkable and photogenic. Its blend of painted gable-roofed houses and modern architecture is set against a backdrop of snowy mountains, with waterfalls and glittering fjords within easy reach. Other towns and settlements along the coast are similarly picturesque, and many have museums and shops selling local arts and crafts.

Our Greenland Expeditions

From the awe-inspiring south to the pristine east and the High Arctic, we have an extensive range of expedition cruises that unveil all the glory of Greenland and beyond.

Iceland

Take a trip to a geological wonderland where nature reigns supreme.

A Land of Beauty Forged by Fire and Ice

Iceland is a country of contrasts. For millions of years it has been shaped by the molten lava below and frozen by the winter ice above. These opposing forces have forged a spectacular variety of landscapes, from tumbling glaciers and sparkling fjords to towering volcanic peaks and smoking hills. Quite simply, there's nowhere else on the planet like Iceland.

The majority of this huge island is a wilderness, little touched by humanity, with four-fifths of the country uninhabited and left to wildlife. Much of Iceland's human population is concentrated around the culture-rich capital Reykjavík and the so-called 'Northern Capital' of Akureyri. Yet even these relatively bustling cities are lonely outposts in a vast wilderness ruled by elemental nature. Around 23 whale species populate the surrounding waters, joined by dolphins, seals, and multitudes of seabirds.

Along the coasts you'll set foot in tranquil towns and picturesque fishing villages, where tradition shapes the way of life and legends that have been passed down from generation to generation live on. Guided by the HX Expedition Team, you'll explore Iceland's varied landscapes. Lose yourself in natural beauty as you skim the waters of a fjord by kayak, scan the waves for ocean giants on small expedition boat cruises, and walk in the realm of the gods, trolls, and elves — or huldufólk — of Norse mythology as you explore hidden landscapes.

Discover the world's northernmost capital, Reykjavík — a city filled with art, culture, and some stunning architecture. You might spend expedition days in the forests, lakes, and farmland of the Eastfjords, and there are ruins to explore and geothermal pools to relax in. You may even cross the Arctic Circle, and learn that it never stays still. Some of our Iceland expedition cruises also take in parts of the British Isles, while others offer a chance to voyage to the Svalbard archipelago — giving you the chance to be a true explorer of the North Atlantic.

KIRKJUFELLSFOSS WATERFALL AND MOUNT KIRKJUFELL, SNÆFELLSNES

A Geological Marvel

Straddling the Eurasian and North American tectonic plates, Iceland experiences constant seismic activity. Its rugged landscape offers myriad geological wonders, from blazing volcanoes and gushing geysers to serene glaciers and breathtaking waterfalls. Our onboard experts will be ready to tell you all about them, both as you explore, and in the ship's Science Center. Onboard lectures will expand on what you'll see on landings, enhancing your knowledge and understanding of this dynamic land.

Where Myth Meets History

From Viking settlers and maritime adventures to volcanic eruptions and the drive for independence, the story of Iceland holds endless interest for any history lover. Here, myth and legend are inextricably entwined with fact, so you'll visit villages that are said to be inhabited by elves, hear about the troll-slaying ancestor of Grímsey fishermen, and perhaps try your hand at lifting 'strength-testing' rocks placed by the Vikings at Snæfellsnes.

From Puffins to Porpoises

The wildlife of Iceland is as varied and beguiling as its landscapes. It plays hosts to some of the world's largest bird populations, and your Expedition Team will guide you to the best spots to observe Northern Gannets and guillemots, razorbills, and puffins. As we sail along the varied coasts, we'll be on the lookout for marine mammals such as dolphins and porpoises, humpback and minke whales, and — if we're very lucky — the mighty blue whale.

Our Iceland Expeditions

Our expedition cruises showcase the best of Iceland's landscape, culture, and geological wonders. Choose between full and half circumnavigations or visit some of the country's highlights together with the British Isles or Svalbard.

Northwest Passage & Arctic Canada

Encounter lands of myth and wonder at the top of the world.

An Untamed Wilderness Like Nowhere Else

The isolated and wild Arctic band stretching from Alaska to Greenland is a vast region of limitless beauty. From the spine-tingling scenery of Baffin Bay to the fabled Northwest Passage and beyond, this is the place where intrepid adventurers can share moments with the resilient peoples who have called these magical lands home for thousands of years.

From the deep blue fjords of Greenland, through the iceberg strewn waters of Baffin Bay and to the untamed wilderness of Arctic Canada and the Northwest Passage, you'll encounter nature in its myriad forms of ice, water, and rock. Witness the lofty grandeur of the Torngat Mountains of Labrador, the shimmering otherworldliness of Greenland's Ilulisaat Icefjord, and the resplendent color of Arctic landscapes aflame with summer flowers.

For a unique adventure, join us as we attempt to thread our way through the icy labyrinth of the Northwest Passage, passing from one great ocean to another. Spanning almost 1,700 nautical miles from Baffin Island in the east to the Beaufort Sea in the west, traversing this fabled sea route is a journey like no other and it's only possible for a few weeks of the year. As we navigate our passage, we'll explore some of its innumerable islands and land at some of the historic places etched into the annals of travel literature.

The vast landscapes surrounding the Northwest Passage are some of the most beautiful and untouched places on Earth. We'll see an ever-changing maze of water channels between pristine panoramas and be welcomed into communities by peoples who have lived here since long before the first European explorers appeared. And as we sail through the frigid waters, we'll be on the lookout for polar bears hunting on the ice, arctic foxes venturing across the tundra, and bowhead whales or narwhal breaking the surface of the water. This is what adventure is truly about.

Farther south, Canada's Newfoundland and Labrador have attracted the adventurous and the curious for centuries, and it's here that ancient cultures have met with more recent arrivals. The Norse explored these lands some five centuries before Christopher Columbus made his epic journey, yet they were by no means the last to arrive. Basque whalers, Moravian missionaries from central Europe, and assorted daring explorers all left their mark on these arcadian shores. Now it's your turn to explore this magnificent region.

The Art of Ice

In the Northwest Passage, marvel at the breathtaking vistas of ice-clad mountains rising above the tundra, and seascapes of blue water peppered with delicately hued icebergs. In Greenland and around Baffin Bay, you'll discover monumental glaciers and fjords of unimaginable beauty, such as the UNESCO-listed Ilulissat Icefjord. To hear the delicate tinkling sound of glacial ice, and to see the shimmering sparkle of icebergs in the sun is something that you'll never forget.

Polar Bear Territory

Some 60 percent of the world's polar bears live in the Canadian Arctic — making your chances of spotting this impressive apex predator a distinct possibility. As we sail, you can also look out for whale species, such as minke, bowhead, beluga, and the unicorn-like narwhal. On land, scan for caribou and Arctic foxes, while in the sky you might spot birdlife like kittiwakes, auklets, and the elusive Ivory Gull.

Ways of Life, Old and New

Exploring this remote region means you'll encounter remnants of its long history, from traces of the ancient settlements of Vikings and missionaries to the remains of infamous exploration attempts like the doomed Franklin expedition. You'll be welcomed into dynamic Inuit communities as well as modern towns, giving you an insight into some of the unique cultures and ways of life in and around the Arctic.

Norway

Experience pure adventure in a winter wonderland with our new 2025-2026 expedition.

Norway, Expedition Style

Norway, a land of snowcapped mountains, deep blue fjords, and peaceful islands, is a country that demands to be explored rather than just seen. That's why, this season, we've designed the ultimate expedition that really shows you the heart of Norway. Giving you access to the wild places that delight the heart of the true explorer, we offer a unique adventure along the coast we've been sailing since 1893.

We've channeled all of our experience, knowledge, and passion into creating a unique expedition cruise which showcases the very best of Norway, its wildlife, culture, and history. Exploring four magical regions above the Arctic Circle in winter, you'll experience the glacial majesty of the Lyngen Alps, the dramatic beauty of the Lofoten Islands, the forested mountains of Vesterålen, and the serenity of Senja. We do so aboard MS Spitsbergen, a small ship which can venture where others can't, giving you a true expedition experience. And as we sail, we're not bound by a fixed itinerary — we'll go where the best opportunities for activities and landings lie.

Winter in Norway is particularly special. It's a time of ethereal beauty and magical light. Mountains are frosted with pristine snow which reflects the crystal blue hues of the coastal waters, and nature seems to hold its breath. It's a time of long nights, when the air is pure and crisp, and the Northern Lights cast a spell of enchantment over everything. During the short days, the sun hovers like a ball of fire close to the horizon, bathing the landscapes in its soft, orange light.

Heading above 66° North in winter means adventure. With your experienced Expedition Team, you'll explore wild islands and deep fjords and venture to remote places where few people ever set foot. You'll meet rarely visited communities and search for whales and other wildlife. And with a wide range of expedition equipment on board, you can don snowshoes and head off the beaten track into the snowy wilderness or hop in a kayak to explore a fjord up close.

On this special voyage, you'll truly live the Norwegian life. You'll come to understand the country's friluftsliv — a deeply-held love of the great outdoors — and enjoy uniquely Norwegian experiences, exclusive to HX guests. You'll find yourself taking a (literally) breathtaking Arctic plunge and sauna, sampling traditional delicacies around a roaring beach bonfire, and walking through history on an evening at the Hurtigrutemuseet.

So, close your eyes, take a deep breath of pure air, and get ready to experience the magical energy of winter in Norway.

Learn more:

Your Adventure into the Heart of Nature

At HX, we have a long history of sailing Norway's coast that stretches back to the nineteenth century. We'll show you our country's rugged and beautiful nature as you jump in a kayak, or pull on snowshoes, or hiking boots - but that's not all. As our guest, we'll also give you some extra-special adventures, exclusively designed to bring you closer to Norway's nature and heritage.

Twilight Bonfire and Storytelling

Enjoy a magical evening with our Day to Dusk – Flames and Flavors experience. Taking place at a remote landing site as twilight approaches, you'll take a nature hike as the last of the day's birdsong whispers through the trees, or slip into a kayak for a peaceful paddle in the still waters. Once the sun sets, we'll gather around a bonfire to sample specially prepared Norwegian delights and indulge in the time-honored tradition of swapping tales and telling stories as darkness seeps over the land and sea.

A Unique Cultural Feast

We invite you to experience Norway's fascinating coastal heritage during a unique evening at the famed Hurtigrutemuseet at Stokmarknes. Our Into the Night – Dinner at the Museum experience gives you exclusive after-hours access to explore this unique setting at leisure and enjoy a special dinner like no other. Take a walk through the full-sized ship MS Finnmarken and get a deep understanding of Norway's maritime history as it's brought to life by stories from former sailors and passengers.

Refresh Your Body, Mind, and Soul

Let nature revitalize you with our exclusive Nordic Sauna and Polar Plunge experience in a beautiful fjord. A Norwegian tradition, this exhilarating process of contrasts is thought to help cleanse the body, release endorphins, and stimulate your immune system. You'll feel your stress melt away in the sauna as the steam wraps you with its soothing warmth, then take a thrilling plunge in the cool Norwegian sea. Afterwards, as you warm up again, you'll feel more alive than ever!

Capture the Northern Lights

When the soft winter sun goes down, the lights of the Aurora Borealis put on a mesmerizing performance. Appearing across northern Norway, the Northern Lights ripple and shimmer in the dark skies, and our ship becomes a floating observatory. There, away from any light pollution, their vibrancy and color is simply breathtaking. We are skilled at seeking out this cosmic phenomenon, and our onboard photographer will show you how to get the best shots with your camera or phone.

LYNGENFJORD, NORWAY

Our Northern Lights Promise

With a full seven days spent entirely above the Arctic Circle, and long winter nights with no light pollution, you'll experience the perfect conditions to witness the awe-inspiring Northern Lights from the deck.

Our promise to you is that if there is no recorded sighting of Northern Lights from the ship during your expedition cruise, we'll give you a Future Cruise Credit worth up to $1,300 per person towards a new HX voyage.*

On your journey, look out for Blue-footed Boobies, iguanas, monkeys, guanacos, sloths, armadillos, coatis, and many more. And in the Ballestas Islands — sometimes called Peru's Galápagos — be on the watch for Humboldt Penguins, turtles, and humpback whales.

Svalbard

Voyage to the pristine wilderness realm of the polar bear in Norway's High Arctic.

Rugged Arctic Beauty at the Top of the World

With sprawling glaciers, jagged mountain formations, and scenic fjords that glow under the Midnight Sun, the isolated islands of Svalbard are an Arctic wilderness like no other. Located just a few hundred miles from the North Pole, an expedition here will probably be the most northerly adventure you'll ever have.

Made up of the Old Norse words svalr meaning cold and barð meaning edge, in winter, Svalbard becomes a dark, icy wonderland on the northmost extreme of the inhabited world. In summer, the most remote branch of the Gulf Stream warms the shores of these rugged islands, and as the sun rises higher in the sky, life miraculously returns. Migratory species arrive and colorful Arctic flora paints the tundra in vivid hues. From mid-February the days grow gradually longer until they peak in mid-April when the archipelago basks in 24-hour daylight. The caramel glow of the Midnight Sun lingers in Svalbard through to late August, until darkness begins to spread once more in mid-October.

A starting point for many past polar expeditions, you'll see the remains left behind by Svalbard's first explorers, such as the Russian Pomor trappers with their cabins and graves. You may sense their pioneering spirit as your own incredible journey unfolds. Visit in spring to witness the rebirth of the sun, or marvel at the kaleidoscopic colors as life returns to the islands later in summer. You can join us on a concentrated voyage along the west coast, or attempt a circumnavigation of the large island of Spitsbergen. Or venture even deeper into polar bear territory as we attempt to fully circumnavigate the entire archipelago. For added adventure, some of our Svalbard expeditions also include Iceland, Greenland, and the little-visited volcanic island of Jan Mayen.

Awe Inspiring Fjords and Landscapes

Svalbard's coastline features some of the world's most dramatic fjords. Watch in awe as Magdalenefjord's glassy surface perfectly reflects the snowcapped mountains above. Explore Isfjord's immense U-shaped valleys where Arctic wildlife and flora thrive. Hornsund and Bellsund astound equally with frosted mountains, glaciers, and striking geological features. Wherever you sail in Svalbard you're guaranteed to witness sublime scenery and unspoiled panoramas of immense beauty.

Wonderful Wildlife

Nearly two-thirds of Svalbard's land surface is protected as nature reserves, national parks, and bird sanctuaries. Svalbard reindeer and Arctic foxes roam the valleys and tundra, while walruses and seals inhabit the shores and polar bears prowl their territories. The west coast of Spitsbergen is famed for migratory birds in summer, including some 30 different species such as Brünnich's Guillemots, Pink-footed Geese, Little Auks, King Eider, and Atlantic Puffins.

On the Arctic Frontier

Longyearbyen is a town on top of the world. It's the largest in Svalbard with around 2,000 residents, including numerous scientists and engineers associated with globally significant projects, such as the nearby Global Seed Vault. Ny-Ålesund is the world's northernmost settlement and was the starting point for various historic North Pole attempts. Once renowned for coal mining, it's now a hub for climate science.

Our Svalbard Expeditions

We were the first tour operator in Svalbard, and have been bringing the adventurous here since 1896. Today, our expedition cruises range from concentrated 8-day adventures to circumnavigations of the entire archipelago and beyond.

Onboard Life

With HX, an onboard experience filled with relaxation, learning, camaraderie, and a little indulgence is all part of the journey.

Life on board is relaxed and the atmosphere is calm and informal. The only dress code is that there isn't one. Your expedition ship is your home away from home, and it has everything you need to make the most of your time at sea. You can enjoy fine or fuss-free dining options, keep fit in the gym, chill out in the on-deck hot tubs, and kick back in the spacious bar and lounge areas.

This laid back atmosphere is reflected in the ship's effortless style. Top to bottom, bow to stern, you'll see fresh, modern interiors inspired by simple Scandinavian style, with added homey touches and original artworks here and there. We've made every effort to use natural materials like pine, slate, and leather, imbuing your onboard environment with an earthy, elemental feel reminiscent of the places you'll be exploring.

What's more, our expedition ships are optimized for space, adventure, and stability. They're far smaller than many cruise ships, meaning we can get to places that are truly off the beaten track. At the same time, they're big enough to give guests plenty of space and provide a stable experience for those times when the seas are not as calm as we'd like them to be. Not too big, not too small — you'll find your expedition ship is the perfect balance!

Socialize with Kindred Spirits

Enjoy swapping stories with your travel companions in the various bars, lounges, and seating areas dotted around the ship. These generally have great views so that you don't miss a thing. Most evenings there's something going on in the Explorer Lounge & Bar or out on deck in warmer locations. This could be talks or storytelling, or something completely different. Pull up a few cozy armchairs, order drinks from the bar, and enjoy an evening of relaxation with your fellow explorers.

Bringing the Outside Inside

The public areas of your spacious and comfortable expedition ship, be it the restaurants, gym, lounge, bar, or even sauna, keep you connected with the natural world. There are wide windows, many floor to ceiling, that blur the line between outside and inside — perfect for spotting whales over dinner or dolphins over cocktails. The open-plan setting bathes public areas in natural light and gives you an ever-changing gallery of passing scenery to lose yourself in.

Indulge Your Creative Spirit

An expedition cruise with HX is the ideal time to learn fresh skills and try something new. Every voyage has a different program of creative workshops, so you might find yourself learning to carve Viking runes, knitting with Icelandic wool, painting landscapes, or doing a crash course in Greenlandic. And with regular photography workshops — sometimes including image editing — you'll learn to get the best from your equipment, whether that's a top-end SLR camera or a humble mobile phone.

This is casual dining at its best.

Beagle Gourmet Galápagos

MS Santa Cruz II's Beagle restaurant serves cuisine fit for the modern explorer. A hearty breakfast buffet sets you up for the day's adventure, and you'll find a wide range of dishes made from local ingredients by local chefs, including evolved international fare, often with a South American twist.

A Day on Board

What will a typical day on your HX expedition cruise look like?
It could be something like this ...

Early morning — fresh and rested

Nothing can beat the feeling of waking up after a relaxing night's sleep knowing you have a day of exciting experiences ahead of you. Perhaps you'll go out on deck and survey your new surroundings. As you breathe in the fresh morning air there could already be people doing morning exercises or yoga — maybe you'll be one of them. Breakfast is a real smorgasbord, with a fantastic spread of everything from fruit, yogurt, and smoothies to freshly baked breads and fried platters cooked right in front of you. As you sip a cup of refreshing coffee you might take a look at the onboard app and see what activities, talks, and excursions are taking place today, both generally and specific to you.

After breakfast — your day of exploration begins

If you're going on an early excursion or landing, you'll go down either to the expedition launch to board a small expedition boat, or simply head out on foot if the ship has docked. From here you'll likely be starting out on a hike or beach landing, or maybe you'll go on a guided walk. This could last for several hours, and perhaps you've picked up a packed lunch from the restaurant to bring along. If you decide to go aboard for lunch you can simply hop into one of the expedition boats as they shuttle back and forth. By lunchtime, on most ships, the drop-in Fredheim restaurant will also be open and serving an array of diner-style dishes including heavenly burgers and milkshakes.

Afternoon — excursions, lectures, and workshops ... or just relax

Afternoons might involve more excursions and wildlife watching opportunities, as well as talks by the Expedition Team. Maybe you've opted to take part in a Citizen Science project and will head out collecting samples. Or perhaps you're attending a workshop to learn more about photography, art, or weaving ... there's always something going on! Of course, you can have a lazy day if you like, spending it reading a book or getting some sun on deck. Or maybe you'd prefer to be more active, going out on a pre-booked kayaking trip. As ever, you set the pace.

Evening — recap, restaurant, rewind ... repeat

In the early evening it's time for a recap of the day's adventures by the Expedition Team, and a briefing of what to expect tomorrow. If it's a designated expedition day, the team will present a range of possibilities based on the expected weather and conditions, and you'll then feel primed and prepared, knowing what to look forward to and which sights and wildlife to look out for. Then it's time to enjoy a table-service dinner in either Aune or — if you want to treat yourself to some next-level dining — Lindstrøm. Feeling more casual? Fredheim is your go-to option and enjoy a drink or two, they're included after all.* Sometimes there may be a bit of entertainment, such as a talk or story.

And so ends another eventful day on board, as you drift off to sleep knowing that tomorrow will bring fresh experiences, opportunities, and wonders.

*Subject to local licensing laws. For cabin guests, premium drinks are not included; for suite guests, premium cocktails, beers, and spirits are included (premium wines including sparkling at extra cost). See travelthx.com/us for full Terms & Conditions.

Keeping Body and Soul in Balance

Whether you want to keep your energy flowing with a yoga session, work up a sweat as you exercise, or simply enjoy some peace and tranquility in a calm space, HX expedition ships have everything you'll need to keep mind and body in balance at sea.

Stay Energized

You'll find a fitness room on all our expedition ships, meaning you can keep yourself in form while away. Along with exercise bikes, there are rowing machines, treadmills,* and free weights.

When traveling on MS Roald Amundsen or MS Fridtjof Nansen, you can enjoy the fresh sea air while getting your heart pumping in the outdoor gym. There's also a small, heated infinity pool, and if you want to get your steps in, look no further than the 150m outdoor circuit and enjoy the sublime feeling of running at sea.

Want to keep your chi flowing? On some of our voyages, there may be daily yoga classes with professional instructors to keep you energized.

Rejuvenate and Relax

After a day of hiking and exploration, take some time to unwind in the panoramic sauna,* which offers floor-to-ceiling windows to gaze out of as the heat works its magic. Or you can soak away any stresses in the outdoor hot tubs and revel in the briny sea air. A meditation session, available on some voyages, will take you on an inner journey and leave you feeling at peace and refreshed.

For the ultimate indulgence, MS Roald Amundsen and MS Fridtjof Nansen have an onboard wellness and spa area, where skilled therapists offer a variety of tension-releasing treatments. Here you can infuse yourself with an aromatherapeutic scrub, savor a full-body massage, or pamper yourself with a special HX signature treatment. Whatever you choose, you'll feel truly revitalized after each visit.

Space to Be Yourself In

The laid back atmosphere and spacious common areas on HX expedition ships means there are plenty of calm and peaceful spots to simply sit and enjoy the view or your surroundings. They're ideal for curling up with a good book and a hot drink or perhaps enjoying an intimate conversation with companions.

For something a little livelier, there's the ship's lounge and bar. With panoramic windows, comfortable seats, and occasional evening talks and entertainment, there's no better place to enjoy a drink and a chat with kindred spirits.

*Not available on MS Santa Cruz II.

Treat Yourself to an Expedition Suite

With our Expedition Suites you can add some indulgence to your voyage. Spacious and with bed combinations for up to four people, these well-appointed and serviced apartments offer special features such as private balconies, expansive windows, and hot tubs. Complimentary fine dining in our Lindstrøm restaurant is part of the experience, and a take-away service means you can also enjoy dinner exclusively. Naturally, the accommodation includes a full range of premium facilities as well as a minibar, a daily turn-down service, and laundry. There's a bottle of champagne on ice awaiting you when you board, as well as a special gift just for you.*

*Amenities vary by ship. For full details, please see Our Ships section in this brochure.

Wi-Fi and mobile phones

An expedition cruise can be a great opportunity to switch off from modern-day distractions and reconnect with the world around you. We do offer Wi-Fi on board, but when traveling to remote destinations, coverage and speed are very limited, so streaming is not supported. Our connection is provided through a satellite link, except when we're close to mobile communication infrastructure on land.

In the most isolated areas, such as Antarctica, Arctic Canada, much of Greenland, Svalbard, and in many places in Alaska and the Galápagos, there's limited or no mobile phone coverage on shore.

Excursions

Our extensive range of optional excursions are pre-bookable and subject to availability. We recommend you book as early as possible to avoid disappointment.

Flights, transfers, and hotels

Depending on your itinerary, flights, transfers, and hotel stays may or may not be included. Check the relevant voyage page on our website for details. When flights are not included, we can book these for you — just give us a call.

Pricing

We have a flexible pricing policy. The 'from' price you see quoted indicates the lowest price you can expect to pay for the least expensive cabin category. Prices are capacity controlled and subject to availability, so they may change at any time. The final price you'll pay is quoted at the time of booking.

Our prices are based on two people traveling together in a shared cabin. If you're traveling alone, you may be expected to pay a single supplement, although we often offer no single supplement promotions. For our latest offers, visit travelhx.com/us/offers.

Accessibility

Most of our ships have step-free access and wheelchair-accessible cabins. For ease of movement around the ship, you'll need to bring your wheelchair with you if necessary (up to a maximum width of 23.5 in). If you think you'll require assistance, it's best to travel with a trusted companion. Please let us know your needs at the time of booking.

Regarding excursions and activities, we strive to make these as accessible as possible, but many are operated by third-party providers so we cannot guarantee all of them will be suitable. Some of our landing sites are also only accessible by our small expedition boats, which guests must be able to step into and out of.

Health and safety

We care deeply about your safety, health, and well-being while traveling with us, and we have various procedures in place on our ships. Our ships comply with international safety requirements and are modern vessels suitable for sailing in their respective destinations, including icy waters. There's a mandatory safety briefing at the beginning of each voyage outlining procedures and the use and location of the safety equipment, and every ship has a medical center with an onboard doctor and nurse. There's also a Safety Notice posted on the inside of your cabin door, which we encourage all guests to read carefully.

What to pack

For cold destinations:

- Wind and water-resistant trousers
- Thermal underwear and top (we recommend wool)
- Warm hat or headband
- Scarf or neck gaiter
- Warm woollen sweater and fleece sweater/jacket
- Gloves and mittens (fleece and wool)
- Warm socks

For warm destinations:

- Fast-drying clothes
- Short and long-sleeved t-shirts
- Shorts for warm days
- Trousers for cooler days

General Terms and Conditions

These Terms and Conditions are effective for bookings made as of September 1, 2024.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Please read the terms and conditions of this Guest Passage Contract (the “Contract”) carefully as they constitute the complete and entire legally binding agreement between you and Hurtigruten Americas, Inc. as to the subject matter discussed below. Please pay particular attention to the terms and conditions as they include limitations on our liability and your right to sue.

This Contract applies to the sea passage as well as to all other products or services of any kind whatsoever provided for or arranged by Hurtigruten Americas, Inc., their agents or independent contractors. These terms and conditions represent the entire agreement and a binding contract between Hurtigruten Americas, Inc. and the customer. These provisions supersede any oral or written representations. Any change in these provisions must be in writing signed by the president of Hurtigruten Americas, Inc. The transports of passengers, baggage and vehicles is subject to the provisions of the Act no. 39 of 24 June 1994 Norwegian Maritime Code, as amended (‘Norwegian Maritime Code’). A copy of the Norwegian Maritime Code in Norwegian and in English, are on file with Hurtigruten and available upon request. The terms and conditions of this Contract are drawn up in accordance with the Norwegian Maritime Code. However, in case of conflict between this Contract and the Norwegian Maritime Code, this Contract shall take precedence.

1. YOUR CONTRACT

Your Contract partner is Hurtigruten Americas, Inc. When used in this Contract, ‘you,’ or ‘customer’ means each person whose name appears on the face of the ticket and/or who uses the ticket for passage on the cruise described in the ticket and their successors and assigns, including Transferees (as defined below). ‘Hurtigruten,’ ‘we,’ and ‘us,’ means Hurtigruten Americas, Inc. and its subsidiary, affiliate, and parent companies, agents, assigns, and vessels they own or charter.

If you are booking your travel or cruise through a travel advisor or if any other person is booking or paying for your travel or cruise (or both)—for example, a person buys you a cruise as a gift—that person buying the cruise for you, booking or otherwise paying on your behalf, or communicating with us on your behalf, will be considered as and referred to in these terms and conditions as your “Agent.” Depending on your relationship with your Agent, that person may be authorized to book on your behalf, pay on your behalf, or both, or conduct other activities in your name. In any case, when we use the term “you” in these terms and conditions in connection with your obligations or requirements (payment, confirmation of accurate information, etc.), you may fulfill the requirements on your own or you may use your Agent to fulfill them, as applicable. However, all waivers, confirmations of authority, indemnities, and releases shall be deemed made by you, personally, and not your Agent unless otherwise agreed to between you and your Agent. In addition, each customer acknowledges and agrees that our obligations are only to customers, and not to any Agents as we have no contractual relationship with nor any obligations to any Agents, and also that we are not responsible or liable for any claims or issues arising out of your relationship with your Agent(s).

When you book travel or a cruise with us, this Contract is regarded as binding once Hurtigruten receives the first payment from you that is required under section 3 below. Hurtigruten is then responsible for delivering the products/arrangements you have booked while you are financially responsible for the booking. The moment you make a booking you are confirming at the same time that you have the authority to accept these terms and conditions on behalf of yourself and any travel companions (i.e. other customers). For clarity, and as indicated above, when we say “you” in this paragraph (and certain others as indicated), we mean either you or your Agent, as determined between you and said Agent and as long as the Agent does have the authority to accept these terms and conditions on your individual behalf and on behalf of all other listed customers.

You accept responsibility for payment to us for all customers in your booking. The customer is solely responsible for ensuring that the actual reservation corresponds with the booking made. As the person making the booking you are also responsible for ensuring that the names on all documents are correct and in accordance with the passports of all customers for whom you are making the booking. As the person making the booking you will also be responsible for ensuring that all travel companions in the booking are kept fully informed of what was booked and any changes that may arise. If you are booking your trip via an Agent, all communication shall take place via the Agent. Note that certain Agents may have additional terms and conditions that you will be subject to when booking travel through them. Always quote your booking number when contacting Hurtigruten.

For security reasons all adult passengers are required to provide contact information, including phone number and e-mail. We will not issue travel documents before we have received this information.

We reserve the right to assign our rights and obligations without your prior consent under these terms and conditions, the booking confirmation, and the full and entire travel package Contract between you and us to another company within the Hurtigruten group. In such cases you shall receive an advance notice of such assignment from us.

2. GOVERNING LAW AND FORUM

SELECTION CLAUSE
ANY DISPUTE ARISING OUT OF OR IN CONNECTION WITH THE PASSENGER TICKET, THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS, AND YOUR CRUISE SHALL BE DETERMINED EXCLUSIVELY BY THE COURTS OF OSLO, NORWAY, THE JURISDICTION TO WHICH WE AS THE CARRIER, AND YOU HEREBY SUBMIT OURSELVES. THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS SHALL BE GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF NORWAY.

3. PAYMENT

Payment is due immediately for all bookings which have a total price of less than USD $1,340.00, including taxes and additional charges. For all other bookings, payment is due as follows:

- i. If you book 90 days or more before your scheduled departure date a non-refundable deposit of 25 % shall be paid when you book. The balance is due 90 days before your scheduled departure date. No second invoice will be sent. Travel documents will be issued 7 to 14 days prior to departure.

- i. If you book less than 90 days before your scheduled departure date the full price is payable when you book.

If you fail to make any payment by the date on which it is due under this Contract, Hurtigruten reserves the right to cancel the booking, keep the deposit and demand a cancellation fee in accordance with Section 11 below. In the event of special promotions, the total amount may be due immediately at the time of booking. Your travel documents will be sent as soon as Hurtigruten has received full payment.

4. HEALTH, SAFETY, AND FITNESS TO TRAVEL ON THE SHIP; DISABILITY OR OTHER MOBILITY CONCERNS; PREGNANCY; CONSENT TO MEDICAL TREATMENT

General Health and Safety.

To make sure we are able to carry you and our other passengers safely and, in particular, in accordance with applicable safety requirements and laws established by international and U.S. law, including the laws of the ship’s flag state, you represent and warrant that you are fit to travel by sea and that your conduct or condition will not impair the safety of the ship or inconvenience the other passengers. Please also be sure to review our COVID-19-specific terms and conditions below; those are in addition to and do not replace these terms.

Notification of Special Conditions; Mobility Concerns; Mobility Equipment.

As soon as possible during booking and, in any case, before boarding, you must notify us of any medical condition for which you or any person accompanying you may require either medical attention or accommodation during the cruise, including but not limited to food allergies, the requirement to bring medical or mobility equipment on board (including a wheelchair) or the requirement for a service animal. The customer assumes all risks arising out of the customer’s personal medical condition prior to the cruise, whether or not that condition is disclosed to Hurtigruten. If you or anyone in your party requires the use of a wheelchair, you must provide your own. Hurtigruten strongly recommends—but does not require—that customers with physical disabilities or medical conditions that may require special assistance before, during, or after the cruise be accompanied by someone who is able to assist both ashore and at sea, as Hurtigruten is unable to offer such services. Medical facilities are not available aboard the ship, and there may be circumstances beyond Hurtigruten’s control that may prevent or delay a medical evacuation or disembarkation. While a doctor or medical personnel may be on board the ship, these individuals are not agents or employees of Hurtigruten, but are independent contractors.

Please note that we may decline to carry certain medical or mobility equipment where it is not safe to have such devices or equipment on board or where we have not been notified sufficiently in advance to permit us to investigate the potential risks associated with same nor whether reasonable accommodations might be made.

Moreover, certain international or local safety requirements, standards and/or applicable laws relating to design, construction, or operation of the vessel, docks, gangways, anchorages, or other facilities on or off the vessel may restrict access to facilities or activities for persons with mobility, communication, or other impairments or special needs. The captain shall have sole discretion to determine whether physical conditions may prevent a customer from going ashore in such situations.

General information about a trip or expedition’s suitability for persons with reduced mobility is provided in the sales and marketing material for that trip or expedition and specific information is available upon request.

Refusal to Embark; Additional Requirements.

We reserve the right to require you to produce medical evidence of fitness to travel to assess whether we can carry you safely in accordance with the above-referenced laws and requirements and our industry standards. If we consider it necessary, we are entitled to administer a health questionnaire prior to boarding which may include questions about your exposure to certain infectious diseases. If it appears to us, the ship’s captain, or our nominated medical representative that you are unable or unfit to travel, likely to endanger your own safety or the safety of any other passengers or our crew, likely to be refused permission to land at any port, or likely to render us liable for your or any other passenger’s maintenance, support or repatriation, then we, including through the ship’s captain, shall have the right to take any of the following actions to which you consent, as applicable, by your entering into this Contract:

- i. Refuse to embark you at any port;
- i. Disembark you at any port;
- i. Transfer you to another berth or cabin;
- i. If Hurtigruten’s nominated medical representative considers it advisable, to place or confine you or to
- i. transfer you to a health facility at any port, at your expense;
- i. To administer first aid and administer any drug, medicine, or other substance or to admit and/or confine you to a hospital or other similar institution at any port provided that the ship’s nominated medical representative or captain considers that any such steps are necessary for your safety, health, or wellbeing or the safety, health, or wellbeing of other passengers and the crew.

Consent to Medical Treatment; Disclaimers of Liability.

Without affecting our general or specific disclaimers or limitations of liability elsewhere in this Contract, Hurtigruten shall not be liable for any aspect of medical treatment provided to the customer, including, but not limited to, the consequences of any examination, advice, diagnosis, treatment, prognosis, or other services that such doctor or medical personnel may furnish the customer. It may be necessary for the customer to obtain shoreside medical service during or after the cruise in countries other than the United States in which a different standard of medical care applies than to which the customer may be accustomed. Hurtigruten makes no warranty as to the quality of any such medical services. If a doctor or other medical personnel is aboard as an independent contractor of Hurtigruten, and in the opinion of such personnel the customer needs medical attention, and if after embarkation the customer is unable to request or authorize such treatment, the customer hereby consents to treatment by such individuals, or by a physician designated by Hurtigruten. The customer shall be charged for, and shall pay for, medical services and for medication and supplies used for his or her medical treatment. The customer shall also be responsible for the payment of any medical expenses incurred ashore.

Finally, if we refuse to embark you for health and safety-related reasons or because we consider you otherwise unfit to travel, we will not be liable for any loss or expense you incur as a result, nor shall you be entitled to any compensation from us.

Pregnancy

Pregnant women are welcome on board our cruises up to their 24th week of pregnancy (i.e. through week 23), however, we recommend seeking medical advice before travel at any stage of pregnancy. For the sake of the mother and baby, we may also require a medical certificate if we feel the situation warrants it. We do not permit pregnant women to travel with us who are more than 23 weeks into their pregnancies.

5. PRICES

The fare set forth in this Contract is stated in U.S. dollars, is per person based on double occupancy and does not include land arrangements or services, unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by Hurtigruten.

The fare does not include items of a personal nature, including but not limited to, laundry, liquor, beer, or wine, unless otherwise indicated. The full and correct price of the trip is given before a booking is confirmed, except as set forth below. The fare includes taxes, fees, port expenses, and charges imposed by governmental or quasi-governmental authorities. Hurtigruten reserves the right to add certain specified additional charges to the price of your booking such as, for example, a fuel surcharge, in the event that there may be increased costs, or if an airline raises rates or imposes surcharges up to 30 days before departure. Hurtigruten reserves the right to collect the fare in effect at the time, and as a condition, of embarkation. Should prices be reduced as a result of the same changes mentioned above, the price adjustment will be credited to you. In the event of price increases of more than 10 percent, you retain the right to cancel your booking at no charge, with a full refund of all amounts paid. Should you wish to cancel your booking as mentioned above, notification of this must be received by Hurtigruten at the below address, at least 14 days from the date of the new invoice showing the increase in price.

6. AIR TRAVEL

You may choose to book your airfare through Hurtigruten. However, all such arrangements are made by us solely as your authorized agent and for your convenience and are at your risk. Air travel providers, owners, and operators are independent contractors and are not acting as agents or representatives of Hurtigruten. Hurtigruten does not undertake to supervise or control such independent contractors or their employees, and makes no representation, express or implied, as to their suitability or safety. Hurtigruten shall not be liable for any delay, damage, injury, death, or loss of any kind whatsoever due to the acts, omissions, or negligence of any air travel providers, owners, operators, or their employees or agents. The prices specified for air travel on Hurtigruten's website or in other advertising materials are based on available seats in the lowest pricing category for flights. If these seats are not available at the time of booking, Hurtigruten will seek to offer the lowest available flight price. The flight price will be quoted upon request and the quote will be provided within one to two business days. If we are required to book the airline's published fare for you, once you accept the quoted flight price, you may be required to pay that amount in full within 24 hours of your acceptance and we will notify you when we give you the quote if that is the case; otherwise, the flight fare will remain part of the total amount you owe and due as set forth in Section 3 above. Please note that some flight prices require a local airport fee to be paid in cash by the customer. Such costs are not included in the agreed price for the booking.

Airline tickets issued may not be reissued or exchanged for another air carrier or routing. Cancellation or re-booking charges will be assessed by the airline for any changes and these additional costs are the sole responsibility of the customer.

According to the European Parliament and Council Regulation no. 261/2004 you have the right under certain circumstances to a refund and/or compensation from the airline if you are refused boarding of the flight or in cases where flights are cancelled or take-off is extremely delayed. You must claim such refund or compensation directly from the airline company. Refunds in such cases will not automatically give you the right to a refund of your costs from us. In cases where delays can result in the right to cancel a flight with the selected air travel provider, this will not automatically give you the right to cancel or receive a refund for any other arrangements with us, even if they were agreed on in connection with the flight concerned unless and to the extent we caused the delay.

7. NAME CHANGES; TRANSFER OF BOOKINGS

If you wish to change one or more names on your booking(s) (i.e. transfer your booking to another person) after you make your first payment and this Contract becomes binding, you may do so before departure on the following schedule below for a minimum administrative fee of USD $75.00 per change, payment of which will be a condition of embarkation.

- 61 days or more before departure for expedition cruises to the Galápagos Islands
- 31 days or more before departure for all other expedition cruises (i.e. excluding to the Galápagos Islands)

Please note that for direct bookings, you must request changes in writing by email to us.expeditions@hurtigruten.com. If you have booked through an Agent, please contact your Agent to make the required changes.

Hurtigruten will consider any name changes other than to correct minor typographical errors a transfer of the booking to the applicable person (the "Transferee"). You represent and warrant that (a) the Transferee satisfies all the requirements of this Contract and the applicable bookings; and (b) you have informed the Transferee of this Contract and that s/he/they will be subject to its terms as if they had originally made the booking, except that you and the Transferee will be jointly and severally liable and responsible for any amounts due under this Contract.

Please also note that the cost of your expedition may increase if you were entitled to a discount or other promotional benefit but your Transferee is not.

Changes in air travel and other arrangements such as shore excursions may also be subject to change fees and/or increases by the carrier, for which the customer shall be solely responsible, including for any such arrangements Hurtigruten has made on your behalf, including airfare, as described in section 6.

8. OTHER CHANGES TO BOOKINGS BY CUSTOMERS

If you wish to make changes to your bookings or travel arrangements other than those permitted in section 7 after this Contract has become valid, such as adding individuals to your booking(s), removing an excursion from your booking or removing a night from a hotel stay, Hurtigruten will make every effort to accommodate your requests; however, additional changes may not be possible and are ultimately in Hurtigruten's sole discretion. As in section 7, Hurtigruten reserves the right to charge you an administrative fee of USD $ 75.00 per change, payment of which shall be a condition of embarkation.

Please contact us.expeditions@hurtigruten.com or call 866-552-0371 to discuss changes.

Also, and as indicated in section 7, certain types of changes, such as changes in air travel and other arrangements such as shore excursions, may also be subject to change fees and/or increases by the carrier or other providers and may otherwise result in an increase in the overall price for the booking, for which the customer shall be solely responsible. Ground transfers (for example, bus rides) purchased through Hurtigruten are not refundable. Please review the documents and instructions for transfers that were sent to you. Missed transfers are not the responsibility of Hurtigruten and there is no reimbursement available.

If Hurtigruten is not able to accommodate your requests as described above, and if you decide to proceed with the requested changes regardless, we shall treat your request as a cancellation and rebooking of the original bookings and incur all associated fees pursuant to section 11 of this Contract.

9. TRANSFER OF BOOKING

Except as explicitly permitted herein, this Contract is personal and cannot be assigned, sold, or transferred to persons other than the customer without the express written consent of Hurtigruten.

10. TRAVEL PROTECTION PLAN

We recommend that all passengers purchase a travel protection plan to help protect you and your trip investment from unexpected events such as cancellations, delays, and medical emergencies. For some destinations, travel insurance is required. Please read the cancellation policy below.

11. CANCELLATION BY CUSTOMER

You or anyone in the booking have/has the right to cancel the booking at any time. All cancellations must be done in writing by the person who has made the booking. The cancellation is effective on the date that Hurtigruten receives the cancellation request at the address provided in this Contract. Please note: There is no refund on bookings that cost less than USD $1,340.00 (including taxes and additional charges). Cancellation fees are calculated according to the following schedule for all other bookings:

Number of days before departure when the Cancellation Letter is received by Hurtigruten
 Charges as a % of the total package cost ****

- Total package cost * | 100% **
- 90 or more days * | 25% **
- 60-89 days * | 50% **
- 30-59 day * | 75% **
- Less than 30 days * | 100% **

For trips that are based on pre-paid flights, including any airfare we book on your behalf, the airline company's booking and cancellation rules will apply to the air portion. Any trip protection costs will be additional to the agreed price for the booking. The same applies to any connection travel that does not form part of this booking. You will be responsible for all such costs. There is no refund of any or all of the booking price for customers who do not show up at the pier for embarkation or who disembark prior to the end of their ticketed cruise itinerary. Should the customer's cabin include several people, partial cancellation will result in the application of the above penalties to the persons who have cancelled and the remaining customers being charged the applicable prices for the revised number of customers in the cabin. If you have to cancel your booking for reasons that are covered by your travel protection plan, you must apply for a refund from your insurance company for the cancellation fee of your own accord. Insurance premiums are not refundable. Cancellation charges are calculated based on total fares paid to Hurtigruten for all trip components. Cancellation charges will apply notwithstanding that Hurtigruten is able to rebook the cabin in question.

12. CANCELLATION, DEVIATION, OR SUBSTITUTION BY HURTIGRUTEN

You agree that Hurtigruten has the sole discretion and freedom to direct the movements of its vessels, including the right to proceed without pilots, tow or be towed, assist other vessels; deviate from the customary or advertised course for any purpose that is sufficient in the judgment of Hurtigruten or the vessel's captain, including but not limited to offering or rendering assistance in an effort to preserve life or property; and put in or back in to, or call or stop at any port or place. Hurtigruten shall not be required to provide you prior notice before exercising its discretion on any of these matters, and shall not incur any liability to you for any loss, damage, or delay, whether consequential or otherwise. Hurtigruten shall at all times have the absolute right, without liability to you, to take all actions necessary to comply with orders, recommendations, or directions from any governmental entity or persons purporting to act with such authority, including but not limited to those pertaining to health, security, immigration, customs, or safety.

Hurtigruten reserves the right to cancel any cruise or booking without liability or compensation to you, provided such cancellation is due to circumstances that are beyond Hurtigruten's control, including but not limited to acts of God, war, piracy, terrorism, civil strife, labor conflicts, weather conditions, perils of the sea, mechanical breakdown, or collisions ('force majeure events'). If as a result of a force majeure event, Hurtigruten determines that proceeding to, attempting to enter, entering, or remaining at a port may expose the ship to risk, loss, damage, or delay, the customer and his or her baggage may be disembarked at any port or place at which the ship may be or call, at which time Hurtigruten's responsibility under this Contract shall cease and the Contract shall be deemed to have been fully performed.

Hurtigruten reserves the right to omit, alter, or curtail any shore excursions at its sole discretion. Hurtigruten reserves the right to substitute any vessel in place of the vessel on which you booked passage for any reason, including reasons based on Hurtigruten's fault, without liability for loss or damage of any kind whatsoever. If a deviation to a cruise is minor, of a kind that the customer should have anticipated occasionally occurring, or the occurrence of which is beyond Hurtigruten's reasonable control, then Hurtigruten shall have no obligation to pay a refund to the customer. If a deviation is not minor, or Hurtigruten cancels a cruise, Hurtigruten shall provide a refund commensurate with the portion of the trip that did not take place.

13. CUSTOMER'S AGREEMENT TO ABIDE BY HURTIGRUTEN REGULATIONS AND CAPTAIN'S ORDERS

You agree to abide by Hurtigruten's rules and the ship captain's orders at all times while aboard Hurtigruten's vessels. Hurtigruten reserves the right, without liability of any kind, to refuse passage to, disembark, or confine to a stateroom, any customer who may be suffering from any contagious or infectious disease, refuses to obey this Contract or the Captain's orders, endangers the safety of himself or herself, other customers, or crew, or whose presence, in Hurtigruten's sole discretion, may be detrimental to the comfort, enjoyment, or safety of other customers, the vessel, or the crew.

Each customer may bring aboard the ship a reasonable amount of clothing and personal effects without charge, subject to airline restrictions. However, you must not bring or cause to be brought aboard any Hurtigruten vessel any of the following items: illegal or controlled substances, fireworks, live animals (except service or guide animals), weapons, firearms, explosives or other hazardous materials, or any other items prohibited by applicable law. You shall not solicit anyone on board for any commercial, professional, or charitable purposes. Hurtigruten reserves the right to disembark or refuse to embark anyone failing to comply with this provision. In such cases, Hurtigruten shall have no liability whatsoever to the customer for any refund or any other related loss or expense to the customer and any accompanying customers. In any port or any place, we reserve the right to refuse to take on board and the right to disembark customers who, according to the ship's authorized personnel, may be refused permission to land on new ports of call by local authorities or that may be suffering from a contagious or infectious disease, or whose presence could be detrimental to customers or the crew's welfare. In cases where the ship or individual customers are in quarantine (customers may have to remain in the berth or are instructed by authorized personnel on board if he/ she or any other person in the berth shows symptoms of illness or can be regarded as a danger to other customers), we do not have liability for any costs that result, and in such cases there will be no rights to refunds or compensation.

14. COMPLAINTS

Should you believe that you have grounds to complain about an arrangement, the conditions must be pointed out under way to the applicable travel guide, crew, and/or representatives of hotels/car hire companies, airlines, etc., who will seek to correct any errors. You are also obliged to minimize your own losses as far as possible. If the incident is not addressed satisfactorily on-site, you may send in a written complaint. Any written complaints must be submitted to the travel agency where the booking was made or directly to Hurtigruten. The complaint must contain the reservation number and a description of the incident as well as any claims made. Hurtigruten makes no guarantee of any redress or particular response to any complaints.

15. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

Without affecting our specific disclaimers and limitations of liability elsewhere in this Contract, Hurtigruten's liability is limited to you under this Contract. Hurtigruten shall not be liable to you for any loss, injury, death, property damage, delay, or harm of any kind caused by or arising from events outside of Hurtigruten's reasonable control, including but not limited to acts of God, war, piracy, terrorism, civil strife, labor conflicts, weather conditions, perils of the sea, mechanical breakdown, or collisions. In addition to our disclaimer of liability as to your relationship with your Agent set forth above, Hurtigruten shall not be liable or responsible to the customer in any way for any injury, death, illness, delay, loss, or damage not shown to be caused by Hurtigruten's negligence or fault. Hurtigruten is also not liable for damages for emotional distress, mental suffering, or psychological injury of any kind that does not result from a physical injury to the customer, actual risk of physical injury to the customer, or intentionally inflicted by Hurtigruten.

FOR ALL CRUISES THAT DO NOT EMBARK, DISEMBARK, OR CALL IN A UNITED STATES PORT, HURTIGRUTEN SHALL AT ALL TIMES BE ENTITLED TO ANY AND ALL LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY, IMMUNITIES, AND RIGHTS SPECIFIED UNDER THE 'CONVENTION RELATING TO THE CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS AND THEIR LUGGAGE AT SEA' OF 1974 (AS AMENDED BY THE 1976 'PROTOCOL TO THE ATHENS CONVENTION RELATING TO THE CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS AND THEIR LUGGAGE BY SEA') (HEREINAFTER 'ATHENS CONVENTION').

In the case of personal injury or death, Hurtigruten's liability shall not exceed 400,000 Special Drawing Rights ('SDR') per customer per occasion (approximately USD $ 540,000.00 as of August 22, 2024, which amount fluctuates daily depending on the exchange rate as printed in the Wall Street Journal). If the personal injury or death was caused by a shipping incident (defined as shipwreck, capsizing, collision, or stranding, explosion, fire, or defect in the ship), Hurtigruten's liability is limited to 250,000 SDR (approximately USD $ 340,000.00 as of August 22, 2024, which amount fluctuates daily depending on the exchange rate as printed in the Wall Street Journal), but can increase to 400,000 SDR unless Hurtigruten proves that the shipping incident occurred without Hurtigruten's fault or neglect. Shipping incidents do not include incidents that result from acts of war, hostilities, civil war, insurance, or natural disasters, or that result from intentional acts or omissions of third parties.

Hurtigruten shall not be liable for money, securities, and other valuables such as gold, silver, jewels, watches, ornaments, financial instruments, and works of art unless Hurtigruten has received them for safekeeping. Hurtigruten's liability for loss of or damage to luggage (defined as any article or vehicle carried by Hurtigruten under a contract of carriage, excluding articles and vehicles carried under a charterparty, bill of lading, or contract primarily concerned with the carriage of goods, and live animals), including any items received for safekeeping, shall not exceed 3,375 SDR (approximately USD $ 4,600.00 as of August 22, 2024, which amount fluctuates daily depending on the exchange rate as printed in the Wall Street Journal).

Hurtigruten's liability for loss of or damage to cabin luggage (defined as luggage which the customer has in his or her cabin or is otherwise in the customer's possession, custody, or control), shall not exceed 2,250 SDR (approximately USD $ 3,100.00 as of August 22, 2024, which amount fluctuates daily depending on the exchange rate as printed in the Wall Street Journal). Hurtigruten's liability for loss of or damage to vehicles, including all luggage carried in or on the vehicle, shall not exceed 12,700 SDR (approximately USD $ 17,200.00 as of August 22, 2024, which amount fluctuates daily depending on the exchange rate as printed in the Wall Street Journal).

IN ALL CASES, LOSSES SHALL NOT INCLUDE PUNITIVE OR EXEMPLARY DAMAGES.

16. NOTICE OF CLAIMS AND TIME TO SUE

Hurtigruten shall not be liable for any claims for personal injury, death, loss or damage to luggage or personal property, unless suit on such claims is commenced within two years from the date of disembarkation or, in the case of death occurring during the cruise, from the date when the passenger should have disembarked. For all other claims, Hurtigruten shall not be liable unless suit is commenced within one year from the date of disembarkation.

17. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISKS

There are certain unavoidable risks to the customer and the customer's property associated with being aboard a vessel and participating in shore excursions. These include, but are not limited to, rough and unpredictable weather and seas; collisions of ships or other vehicles; illnesses caused by consumption of food and beverages; slip and fall due to the motion of the sea or other causes; lack of access to medical services; civil unrest or terrorism; evacuation of the vessel in an emergency; unpredictable behavior of animals in the wild; and breakdown of equipment. The customer warrants that the customer and any passengers for whom the customer is responsible are fit to travel and warrants that the customer will only engage in those activities that are within the customer's physical ability and experience. The customer agrees to assume all the risks associated with sea travel and shore excursions.

18. NO LIABILITY FOR INDEPENDENT CONTRACTORS

You may be afforded the opportunity to contract with third parties acting as independent parties for the provision of shipboard personal services and shore excursions. You acknowledge that all shore excursions, tours, airline flights, ground transportation, and hotels are either operated by or are independent contractors. While Hurtigruten shall be entitled to collect a fee for such services, Hurtigruten does not supervise or control the actions of these independent contractors or make any representation either express or implied as to their suitability or competence. Hurtigruten, in arranging such services, does so only as a convenience for the customer and the customer is free to use or not use those services. Hurtigruten does not assume any responsibility for or guarantee performance of any such independent contractors. Hurtigruten shall not be liable for any negligent, grossly negligent, or intentional acts or omissions of such independent contractors, nor for any loss, damage, injury, or delay to the customer or the customer's property in connection with such services.

The fees and costs for shore excursions, tours, airline flights, ground transportation, hotels, or any other services provided by independent contractors which the customer orders but does not use are neither refundable by Hurtigruten nor exchangeable.

19. INDEMNITY FROM DAMAGE

You and your traveling companions must behave in a manner that is not a nuisance to other passengers and that will not cause safety or practical problems for the cruise or any independent contractors. The customer shall be liable to and shall reimburse Hurtigruten for all damages or loss to Hurtigruten's property, including the vessel and its furnishings and equipment, and for all damages or loss to independent contractors and other Hurtigruten passengers, caused directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, by any act or omission of the customer and those for whom the customer is responsible, whether willful or negligent. The customer shall further indemnify Hurtigruten and all of its agents or representatives against all liability whatsoever arising from any personal injury, death, damage, delay, or loss caused directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, by any act or omission of the customer and those for whom the customer is responsible, whether willful or negligent.

20. TRAVEL DOCUMENTS

Your specific passport and visa requirements as well as any other immigration requirements are your own responsibility and you must clarify this with the relevant embassies and/or consulates. We do not accept any responsibility in situations where you cannot travel because you do not meet the latest requirements. If you have made independent travel arrangements, you are responsible for boarding the ship in good time, regardless of any changes to the sailing times and dates or travel routes. We cannot refund monies paid to us, or a third party that acts on our or your behalf, or give compensation or make any payments when you, regardless of the reason, do not board the ship. Customers that disembark are responsible for boarding the ship again before departure from the port.

21. VALIDITY OF BROCHURE

Hurtigruten's travel brochure and the information contained in it, including prices and itineraries, is subject to change without notice at the discretion of Hurtigruten. Hurtigruten is not liable or responsible for any typographical errors and/or omissions. We reserve the right to at any time change the travel information and correct any mistakes in Hurtigruten's brochure. Should changes be made to the brochure before you have made your booking, we will attempt to advise you thereof before confirmation of bookings.

22. PROTECTION OF PRIVACY

To process your reservation, Hurtigruten needs some basic information. This includes names, address, any special requirements/dietary requirements, etc. We take all precautions to ensure that the information will not be misused. Nevertheless, we must pass on the necessary information to certain independent contractors that are involved in your travel plans. This applies, for example, to airlines, ships, hotels, and transport companies. The information may also be given to credit companies and government authorities such as customs/immigration, if required. We will never give out this type of information to private individuals or companies that are not directly responsible for part(s) of your trip. This applies particularly to sensitive information that you provide, such as details on any disabilities, special dietary requirements, or religious needs. If you do not accept that we pass on such information if required to do so, we reserve the right to reject your booking. Please note that if you make a booking with an agent/travel agency, it is the agent's protection of privacy procedures that will apply. Hurtigruten shall not be responsible for any third party's protection of your privacy. Should you wish to have a copy of personal information that we have registered about you, you are welcome to contact us. Hurtigruten may also contact you by e-mail and/or telephone with news, information, travel offers, and marketing surveys. If you do not wish to be contacted for such purposes, please advise us of this by e-mail to: us.expeditions@hurtigruten.com.

23. PHOTOGRAPHS AND VIDEOS OF CUSTOMER

During the course of your cruise, Hurtigruten may produce photographic, video, and/or audio-video recordings ('images'), which may be made available to passengers and may also be used by Hurtigruten in advertising and promoting its products. The customer consents to the making of images including the customer's appearance, words, and voice, while the customer is engaged in the cruise, and grants to Hurtigruten the irrevocable, perpetual, royalty-free right to use, reuse, publish, republish, and disseminate such images and any copies or derivative works from such images in any manner for promotional and other commercial purposes, in any medium and without restriction as to changes or alterations, or reproductions thereof in color or otherwise. The customer releases and assigns to Hurtigruten the right or interest the customer may have in images including the customer's appearance and/or voice recorded by Hurtigruten's employees, agents, or contractors, and waives any rights of any kind in or over such images including rights of compensation, publicity, privacy, copyright, review, inspection, or approval.

24. SEVERABILITY

In the event any paragraph, clause, or provision of this Contract is deemed invalid or illegal in any jurisdiction, such paragraph or provision shall be deemed reformed to the extent necessary to render it enforceable, so long as consistent with the basic purpose of the paragraph, clause, or provision. If the paragraph, clause, or provision is not reformatable, it shall be deemed severed from this Contract in that jurisdiction only and all remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.
